

Our Trip to Tableau!

RecTech/Digital Skills For All Students Go To Tableau July 2019

Our visit to Tableau began in a meeting room as exceptional employees started their allocution about their interesting work at Tableau! It was interesting to hear that their product means so much more than just making money, getting customers, and simply getting on with the day. When we arrived and had the opportunity to hear about the workers, it suddenly became more than just a visit, and Tableau became more than just a quickly growing company. There was a comforting atmosphere when listening to their stories. They weren't afraid to tell you the truth because they know someone in the room could be in the shoes they were in, and they genuinely sound like honest people that you can trust!

While we were at Tableau they told us about how they've donated millions, and how their objective is to make people's lives easier through their product. They then proceeded to lead us to their glorious kitchen and alluring view from the rooftop (I even spotted a flamingo boat)!
